

COLLEGIATE

APPROX

EBM

Page Knott

STAFF

NOV.

Editor.....	Anne Lerner
Assistant Editor.....	Fairie Steinberg
Art Editors.....	Diane Dwyer
	Tate Kvist
Sports Editors.....	Fred Collins
	Bob Thompson
	Elaine Vokey
Feature Column.....	Bev Adams
Inter-High Reporter.....	Ruth Krinkle
Student Council Reporter.....	Gloria Lillies
Activities Reporters.....	Sara Lee Faerman
	Janara Bozynski
Humour.....	Esther Freecman
	Laureen Colish
Gossip.....	??????????????
Collegeiate Talent.....	Shayla Mindell
	Maxine Waldman
Rhythm Rendezvous.....	Ken Goldstein
	Kurt Warner
Collegeiate Controversy.....	Janara Shaffer
Cheers 'n Jeers.....	Ruth Bellan
	Betty Meurer
Scads of Fads.....	Betsy Okonick
Production Manager.....	Merrill Shulman

EDITORIAL

At the end of the last school year, summing up all the events and happenings we found the following: Our school had been tops in sports: our boys' basketball team had become Inter-Suburban Champs. Our boys' Volleyball team had also attained the same honour. Every team, whether a winner or loser, had shown good sportsmanship and brought honour to our school. The girls' willingly formed a chorus which provided delightful entertainment at many events. Our scholastic standing was the highest in the province. Everything the students attempted was carried out successfully--- Tea Tickets-over the quota in sales: Magazines-over the top in the drive. Our dances were extremely successful- each attracted a crowd of about 300 students. Looking back at this, you couldn't find a better all-around school.

We should all count ourselves lucky for the chance of attending such a wonderful school. The year has just begun and all the students, new and old, are just getting into the swing of things. The first project undertaken by the school was the Magazine Drive. This event, which last year went over the top and supplied the student council with a large sum of money, has just managed to achieve about 45% of its goal this year. Many students put a big effort into this and went over their individual quotas. These students are a boon to the school. But many didn't bother trying to sell anything. This isn't something to be proud of.

The tryouts for sport-teams are very poor, even though inter-room sports are very successful. These are very poor signs. If this is a sample of what is to be expected this year, all of the good work of last year's students will be undone and we are doomed to a low standard this year.

Something is lacking. There is no doubt about this. There is no unity or spirit among the students. We have a reputation to uphold. This isn't hard to do, but it takes some effort from every student, all year round. Our next project is the tea. A quota of six tickets per person is not much to expect, so let's get it and really support our school.

Let's really work to uphold our good reputation and high standard. We, the student body, will benefit in the end.

STUDENT COUNCIL REPORT

The Student Council got underway this year with the first big project for this year, the magazine drive. Unofficially, the profit from the drive was approximately $355. We hope everyone is out selling tickets for the tea now, keeping in mind that half-day off at a movie! With the school rings and pins on order, the sweat-shirts and t-shirts are now available for the students.

Much to the delight of the teachers and the girls, but to the dismay of some of the boys, it seems that the boys will be donning more gentlemanly attire for class.

The first dance, held on October 17, was a big success. November 7 is the date of our next dance.

The future holds in store more dances and more projects. With the support of the students, the Council will be able to achieve their aim of making this year even more profitable than last.

---

NOTICE!!

Don't forget the Oratorical Contest. Cash prizes will be awarded to the winners, so here's a chance for some easy cash. Rules and topics are posted on the bulletin boards. All people interested are asked to contact Mrs. Malz in Room 10.

Letters to the Editor with your comments on any column are always appreciated. Those not signed will NOT BE READ.

---

I love the homework the teachers give
The tests.
I hate the pretty girls who flirt,
The pests!
I'm never late to classes, nor take
My cuts.
I do my homework faithfully,
I'm nuts!

The speaker had many fantastic ideas for the reformation of the world and had been expanding them a great length. Finally he concluded his address by shouting -----"I want Government reform, I want education reform, I want-----"

And a bored voice from the audience drawled, "Chlore-form."

Elaine Vokey

SPORTS

Fred Collins
Bob Thompson

Once again the boys and girls are having a real good season, both in inter-suburban and inter-mural sports. Within a few days after the opening of school, our inter-mural soccer league started. Thor Kvist acted as convenor and did a fine job. The eventual winners-----Room 21 and 22.

Inter-suburban soccer saw our boys go through the regular schedule undefeated. However, events took a turn for the worse and they were "drubbed" 3-0 in the sudden death semi-final. Congrats, must go to Captain Fred Shane, Len Melman and Tage Kvist, the teams leading scorers. Special thanks to "Scotty" Kiernan, the team's likeable coach.

Girls inter-mural volleyball is fast drawing to a close. "Uncle Freddy" predicts--Room 15A. (Don't disappoint me).

Girls inter-suburban volleyball is going quite well, considering the number of veterans on this year's club. They are still not finished the schedule and could turn a lot of faces red before they do finish.

Boy's inter-suburban volleyball is faring rather well this year. The schedule has not been completed, but the boys are guaranteed of a play-off position. They have a lot of work to do if they hope to retain their term of "defending champions".

The boy's inter-mural volleyball season is shaping up as a real battle for the championship. It seems it will be either Room 10A or Room 4A. "Uncle Freddy's" prediction---Room 10A (too much depth).

Bowling and Curling will be starting soon. This year bowling is for girls and curling for the boys ONLY. The Bowling convenor this year is Karren Hartry of Room 22.

Both Mr. Peppler and Mr. Kowalchuk have their inter-suburban basketball teams out and practising. The season will start on November 7th or November 14th. (Buy your tickets early). Ask your sports rep. about the sport's council's new innovation this year.

A cheer to our new president---
Wayne Kepron and vice-president---
Bob Gold. Congratulations.

A cheer to the students who made an effort to sell subscriptions for the magazine drive and to those who received V.I.P. pins.

A cheer to Ken Nedgial and Bob
Kent for informing us on the happenings of the day.

A congratulatory cheer for the students who won awards at the Commencement Exercises.

A cheer to the girls and boys who tried out for the choirs.

A jeer to the teachers for not having Teacher's Convention on Thursday and Friday before the Thanksgiving Weekend.

A jeer to the students who gather in the halls between classes and gossip.
Ever thought of writing notes?

A disgusted jeer to the teachers for handing out so much detentions.

A jeer to the mad chemists for smelling up our school hall.

A mournful jeer to the teachers for handing out so much homework each night.

A jeer to the students who clutter up the desks in the typing rooms with paper.

ACTIVITIES

Sara Lee Fairman

Sandra Bozynski

Hi kids, here we are again with your News and Views on Activities around the school.

Well, this year things sure got off with a big bang! The yearly Commencement Exercises were held on September 17. Awards and diplomas were given out to last years students. At 9:00 the dance began. Dancing music was supplied by records and as an added attraction, some of our last year students, known as the Hi Fi's, performed for us. The dance ended at 11:30.

Once again the Current Events and Debating Club went into action. The club started on Sept. 26 and meets every Wed. at 12:30. The executive consists of Toby Marantz, president, and Marcia Billinkoff, secretary. This year, school elections started early. In the running were three candidates from Rm. 7, and 1 from Rm. 10; Wayne Kepron was elected president, and Bob Gold stands behind him as vice-president.

On Oct. 16, the annual magazine drive got off to a roaring start. This year as in other years, we're going to put forth a great effort to reach our quota and reap in the benefits for our student council. Money from the drive will be used to buy equipment for the newspaper and yearbook. (Non kids let's really get behind this project and push it over the top!

The student council started the ball rolling socially with our first school party, held at Edmund Partridge on Friday, Oct. 17. The dance commenced at 8:30 and continued full swing until the bewitching hour. We all had as well time and are looking forward to many more such evenings of an even higher and more enjoyable calibre.

The dance acted as the period of calm before the storm. It helped to ease the tension of the oncoming examinations. Actually you've got to admit that we had a pretty easy time of it. After all, how much material is covered during a month?
Well, one set is over with; now to prepare for the Christmas slaughter.

This year for the first time in the school's history, a boy's chorus has been instituted by Mr. Reimer. Those golden tones floating through our hallowed halls are becoming a familiar sound. Keep progressing boys. We're hoping for a performance in the near future.

In this changing world of ours, time is a very relative thing. Let me apply ~~this~~ statement to my daily life: if I drive to school—a distance of six blocks—I will be there within one minute after I leave home; if I walk, the trip will take me ten minutes (O. K., so I walk slowly). See, I have just gained nine minutes in which to so last night's algebra assignment. Now wouldn't it be wonderful if I could extent these nine minutes of actual time to two hours of working time, in which I could do my English too? What I need is a time machine which will take me two hours back in time, to 6:45 a.m.

Swell! But wait a minute—if I work hard for an hour, at 7:45 a.m. I will have my algebra and my English done; but at 8:45 a.m., when I left, I did not have them done. How come? And if I have them done at 7:45, why go back in time at 8:45? Oh Boy, a paradox!

If you assume that the world is flat, and find that you have sailed around it and are back home again, you have two alternatives: you can go pleasantly crazy, or you can realize that your basic assumption (i.e. the world is flat) is wrong. Of course, we know that the world is round (oh yes we do!), so we must reject the first alternative. The same holds true with the paradox of time travel—we must reject the assumption that you CAN travel in time.

Hence, none of the problems I've mentioned above could ever occur. Or could they?

Definitions:

Time Travel: Time travel is the act of travelling through time. This act has logically been shown to be impossible.

Paradox: A paradox is an act which contradicts itself.

Michael Feld: A Michael Feld is the type of person who writes columns like this; otherwise known as a "nudnik".

COLLEGATE TALENT

Shayla Mindell

Maxine Waldman

This year, W.k.C.I. has introduced a boys chorus to the males of our school. In the past years, the school has been very successful with the Girls Glee Club and from its successful start, it looks as if the Boys Chorus is going to be just as much fun and just as much an asset to our school, although I must admit try-outs were a bit ludicrous.

Mr. Reimer, a new member of Collegiate's teaching staff, has been allotted the responsibility of molding approximately sixty monotones (supposedly) into a fine strong organization.

Try-outs were for "Capers". After the boys were tested for "eagerness" to sing (and a few of them turned out only because "my teacher said 'go', so I went, and I'm here"! ) Then, they were tested to see if they could—hear! They then advanced a step and tried a scale between dashing out for a quencher for dry throats, and clearing their throats of all present "frogs". The result, to quote Mr. Reimer, "we're getting harmony, where there should be unison".

But aside from all their kibitzing, the boys are really interested in this and hope to have a lot of fun with it. (By the way, their first performance is in March.)

Questioned as to why the boys turned out to the choir, replies were as follows: Ken Hawkins—"I joined the choir because I think it should be a lot of fun."....Brian Litman—"A Chorus is a wonderful thing for the males of a High School, because it enables them to enjoy the finer things in life."...Paul Walsh "I joined the chorus just for "kicks"...Stuart Fleck—"I followed the crowd"

continued

And finally, a boy who thinks not of himself, but of the school is Barry Goldman of Room 5 who felt his wanting to join the Chorus was motivated by purely unselfish ideas..." A voice like mine deserves the opportunity to sing and bring joy and an asset to the Chorus and to my school." (He didn't make the Choir).

But all in all it looks like every Thursday morning, fourth period, there's going to be a lot of laughs, fun and enjoyment floating out of the double doors of our auditorium as well as a lot of weird sounds.

---

SCADS OF FADS

Diane Unrode

Betsy Okopnick

Well, here is the first edition of the newspaper and the first column of "Scads of Fads". To begin with we'd like to welcome all the new collegiate members and say hello to all the old students.

As you probably have noticed the new look is present from "head to toe". To begin with, let's study the casual clothes. The common head dress is the headache band which comes in all shapes, sizes and colours. Sweaters can be found mostly in the Perry Como, crew-neck, and chemise styles. Not only are they available in the new materials, banlon and shetland, but also in the old standards, wools and orlons. Bulk knits are still very popular. Dyed-to-match sweaters and skirts still rate high in the fashion world. Of course we mustn't forget to mention the ever-popular tights and stockings worn to match the sweaters. In shoes, the T-straps are very fashion-wise, especially in kid-leather. Shoes with french toes (pointed, squared-off toes) are very versatile and are being worn with everything from slacks to cocktail dresses. The latest word in handbags is the flat, chemise style purse with the chain handle. They are found in suedes, leathers and wool fabrics.

The chemise and the sack dresses still seem to dominate the wardrobes of the fashion-conscious teenagers. But even more popular this year is the Blouse-on dress found in striking plaids and prints of greens, blues, reds, and the latest shade, pumpkin. Strands of coloured beads are still a favorite accessory.

In the cocktail line, royal blue seems to be the most popular colour. Harem skirts, the trapeze and empire lines are the styles most favoured by the high-school crowd. Dyed to match shoes and n lons are worn with all cocktail dresses.

For the BOYS, "ivy league" is still the magic word, and at last, is dominating the boys' fashion world. Coloured shirts with button-down collars are the main sellers. Perry Como sweaters as well as crew-necks are still very popular. Matching ties and hankies are very smart when worn with suits, as any girl will tell you.

It would be impossible to include all the latest fashion trends, so we have merely attempted to outline the predominating fads in the fall season. Until next issue, this concludes your fashion report. We want to wish you all the luck in your October tests.

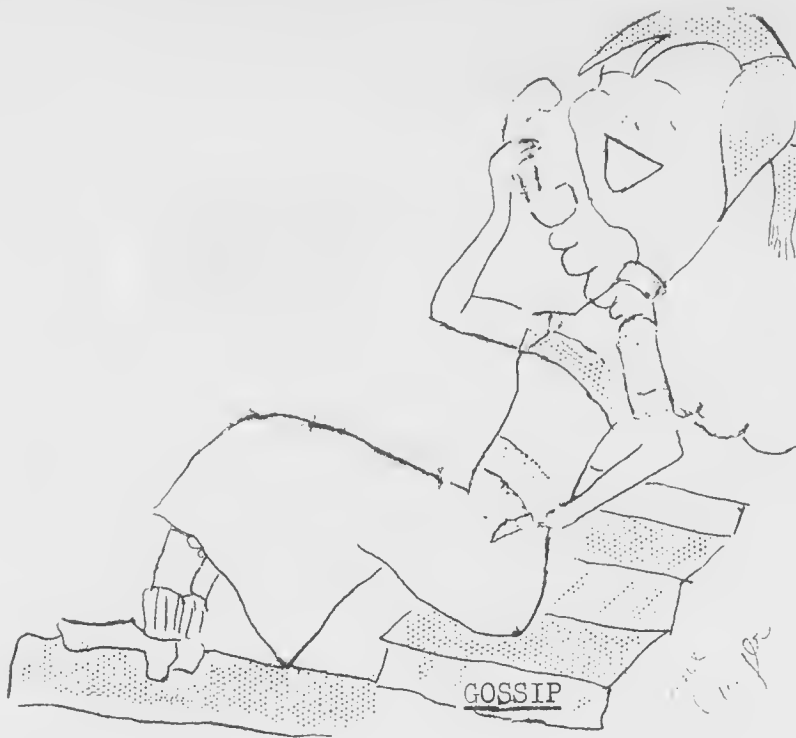

LAST MINUTE FLASH: GIRLS' SKIRTS ARE SUPPOSED TO HIT AN ALL-TIME HIGH THIS WINTER!!! ABOVE THE KNEE!!

Four-Big-Ears

1. "A" certain "Schick" has sure brightened up the school with her snazzy jacket. Did it "DON" on you that it belongs to the King?
2. Gail M. can be seen going down to Rene's to meet Ken. How long has it been now?
3. Rochelle L. and Sandra S. are both "PHIL"ed with joy when a boy from Room 21 walks by. He seems to prefer Gail B.
4. Marvin C's mind turns "Blank" when you talk about a certain "Cookie".
5. Pat M. has been dating three Daves (how lucky can a girl get??) but a certain one has won her hart. Now all we have to do is find out which one.
6. Abby S. has been sporting a new ring lately and her initials aren't L.C.
7. Bev C. has been seen "BOB"ing round school lately. Taking him out for Sadie Hawkin's Day???
8. Isn't it a coincidence that Jock happens to be in the library when Room 15 girls are there? Could you tell us about it Lynn???
9. Not too long ago Jack S. came to school with a broken wrist. He says he ran into a door but I think he ran into "Ces".
10. Carol M. just loves "Frenchie" perfume and believes in love at first sight.
11. It seems that Linda F. was getting lost in the "huge halls" until Morton G. helped the situation.
12. Ester F. "Mel"ts at the sight of a certain jet pilot. Don't keep him in hiding girl...bring him out in the open.
13. Bob E. has a sweet-tooth for "Honey". You know, too many sweet things aren't good for you.
14. Ken M. has taken a fancy to "Rich" people, especially ones in Room 9.
15. Sandra D.'s favourite expression is "Rodgers" and out. She seems to have picked out h"IR WIN"ner.
16. Karen P. has been in a very happy mood ever since Tuesday night when the phone rang. Who was it calling? Does Jim strike a bell?
17. Cheryl L. can be found day-dreaming quite often and we know that it has to do with a Graduate with the initials "G.G."
18. Room 16 was quite dull until a certain Miss stepped in. How are you making out boys? Brian B. seems to be doing all right for himself.
19. Gail A. is all aslow now....Bob S. and her are back together.
20. Wendall's latest intrest is near his house. It couldn't be the river. Is it "Mil"?

There are still the "everlasting" couples who have been going steady since last year. Some of these are: "Gloria & Roger", "Lynn & Jock", "Maureen & Allan", "Fred & Karren", "Jeff & Francine".

Hi kids! Well here we are with news from all the high schools again. This time, of course, the main news item from every school is the announcement of their new executive and Freshie Queen.

CHURCHILL HIGH SCHOOL

Congratulations go out to Bruce Doern and Janice Kimball, who have been elected president and vice-prexy at Churchill. Churchill started something new this year in the way of election campaigns. The night of the election speeches, the candidates for offices put on a dance at which they each took part in a one-minute skit. Something new also originated at Churchill this year in cross-country racing. A turkey race was held and the winners were presented with a free turkey dinner and a trophy. The purpose was to build up interest in long-distance running, and judging from the turnout it was pretty successful.

ST. JOHN'S TECH

Congratulations to Eugene Senicki and Phyllis Dudick who are the new representatives of Tech's student body. Congratulations also go to tall and pretty Miss Donna Patton, and her Freshie princesses.

KELVIN

Best of luck goes out to Jim Fenwick who has been elected pres. at Kelvin and to Leslie Gaye who came in as vice-prexy. Ginny Toothail was elected Freshie Queen as the seniors descended on the freshies at the annual Freshie Dance. Kelvin, you had better start picking up in football or Tech will have competition for the last place.

TEC VOC

Well, for the first time Tec Voc has a girl president. The line-up is Joanne Coulter, pres. and David Lane vice-pres. The Freshie Queen is Pat Dytchyn..

ST. PAUL'S COLLEGE

St. Paul's newspaper, the Crusader, has a novel way of finding editors. Each room takes a turn at editing the paper and at both Christmas and the end of the year, a shield is awarded to the room doing the best job. Good idea, don't you think?

ST. JAMES COLLEGIATE

President of St. James is Maurice Hogue and Vice president is Janice Hallsall. Best of luck to both of them in their new positions.

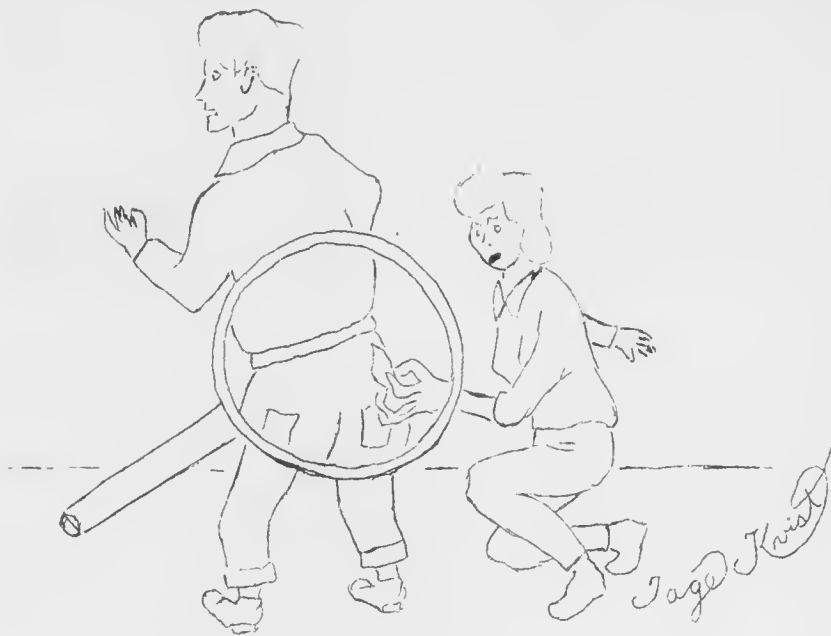

EDMUND PARTRIDGE

Head of E.P. student body are Carla Freedman and Larry Hoad. The elections were run in a different way this year. The nominations were handed in to the office and screened. Out of twelve nominations, there were only two allowed to run. They were running for the offices of president and vice-pres.

Do you kids remember the Starlites, a vocal group that used to make the rounds of the school dances? Well, they have gone off to Montreal to try their hand at a career in show business. We are wishing all the luck in the world to the boys and we know that they will go a long way.

Congratulations to the Sisler Spartans and the Tec Voc Hornets who have made the finals in the High School Football League.

"I SPY"

Bev Adams

My name is Lola! I am a spy! I'm not an ordinary spy, my sideline is "vamping". My hours are 12-4 "spy", 9-12 "vamp".

Tuesday was a day like any other day! It had 24 hours. At 8:40 I spotted my suspect Lady X. At 8:41½ she unbuttoned her coat, 8:42 she took it off and then proceeded to talk, talk, talk. I could see this was going to be a tough assignment.

At 9:06 she scratched her nose and then patted her hair. At 9:10, armed with a history book and a French Grammar, both dangerous weapons, she left the room. Stealthily, I followed her. Suddenly she was lost in the crowd. Frantically I searched for her. Alas! She was gone. (I'd better be careful or the chief will take my vamping licence away). At 10:30 I finally caught up with her at the "water trough". The suspect had come to drown her sorrows (just had a history test). I then "Tailed" her to French class where my suspicion mounted. Why didn't she take her regular seat? Why did she move? At 10:45 Lady X mumbled several incoherent phrases and at 10:46 screamed "shinning", a "boat". This was a queer case!

At 12:00 I left for lunch.

At 1:15 I assumed my job. One thought kept puzzling me, "WHO WAS LADY X?". Baffled, I followed her again. She seemed to favour this one building, W.K.C.I. At 1:16 Madame X rubbed her eye. At 1:17 leaning on her elbow, she rubbed her chin and at 1:19 talked to the person next to her. 1:19¾ she bent down and pulled up her socks, continued talking. At 1:20 class began. Lady X opened her books. I watched every move. She had to make a slip! Suddenly I had my reward.

The room was deathly quiet. (The class was thinking!) A student was conversing with the teacher. He stood one step away from Lady X. My mystery woman had found her victim! Stealthily, her hand crept towards his back pocket, long bony fingers withdrew a piece of paper. Suddenly the victim was revealed! Now my curiosity was to be satisfied!

In case anyone's interested who Lady X is, ask Sharon Mintz, Room 10. She also had her own Pied-pocketing services. (Rates are very cheap).

Well, that's one closed case! Till next month "hsssssssst". It may be "you" that I spy. (I'm not alone. I'm an agency! (Safer that way .) What Lola sees, Lola writes. Ta! Ta!

Kurt Warner

Ken Goldstein

Since last year's editions of "Collegiate Capers", many new stars have risen to popularity--Andy Rose, Conway Twitty, Dale Wright, Eddy Fontaine, Dale Hawkins, and such groups as the Elegants ("Little Star") and the Ponitails ("Born Too Late").

TOPS IN POPS:

Currently going strong here in town, and all over North America, is Tommy Edward's waxing, "It's All In The Game". The Everly Bros. seem to have a way of keeping one of their discs on the charts--currently it's "Bird Dog". Bobby Day's recording of "Rockin' Robin"/"Over and Over" is really rising at a fast pace, and may even hit the top in the next few weeks. Ricky Nelson's "Poor Little Fool" is slowly leaving the charts, while Dale Wright's disc, "Please Don't Do It", is starting to catch on. This one seems to have copied "Western Movies". Pat Boone is following his usual pattern--having at least one good record on the listings. At present, it's "Gee But It's Lonely" (the flip side of "My Good Fortune").

LONGPLAY ALBUMS:

KING CREOLE (Elvis Presley), and STARDUST (Pat Boone) are still going strong, but a surprise entry has outsold them both for the last two weeks. It's "Tchaikovsky: Piano Concerto No.1" (What??!!) by Van Cliburn.

For anyone interested, "South Pacific" has been on the top selling L.P. charts for 238 weeks (4½ years)!!

PICK HITS OF THE FUTURE:

1. "Forget Me Not"--the Kalin Twins. This one should reach the same degree of popularity as "When".
  2. "Love Makes the World Go Round"--we can't forget Perry Como.
  3. "I Love Linda"--Jan and Arty. Keep your eyes on this one.
  4. "La Do Dada" (?)--Dale Hawkins. This one should reach the top without any trouble.
  5. "My Susie Jane"--Bobby Lee Trammel's new waxing should be a good follow-up for his present hit-parader--"You Mostest Girl".
- On the novelty side--"Beep Beep"--A cute disc about a drag race between a Cadillac and a Nash Rambler (The Rambler wins).

That's all for now. See you next edition with more news and views from the Pop Parade.

Kurt & Ken.

"Mommy, mommy, can't we get a garbage disposal?"

"Eat up and keep chewing".

---

Larry: "what's that growing out of your head?"

Harry: "Rhubarb".

Larry: "You have rhubarb growing out of your head? That's too bad."

Harry: "Yes, it is. I planted celery."

Man at door: "Lady, a steam roller just ran over your daughter."

Lady: "Shove her under the door--I'm in the bathtub."

---

Then there's the cigarette manufacturer who has requested in his will that he be buried in a flip-top box.

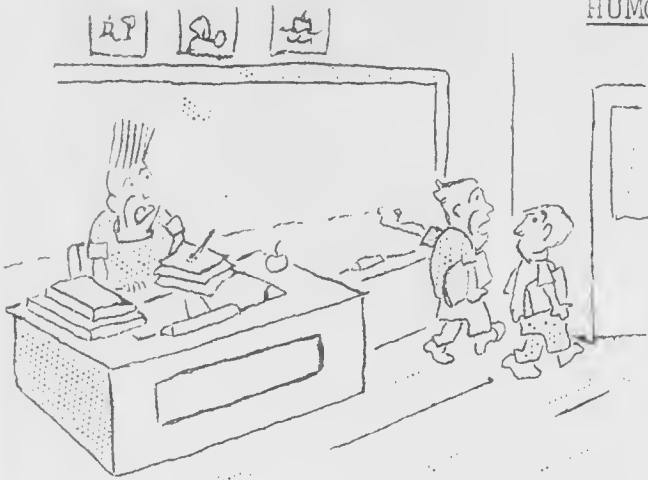

---

Definition of a hot dog: A Tube Steak.

HUMOUR

"What did I tell ya??.....Straight up!!!!!"

---
New medical discovery: Frozen band-aids for cold cuts.

---
Definition of a drive-in: a place where you turn off the ignition and try out your clutch.

---
Jim: "That cross brings out your eyes."
Detsy: "Yours, too."

---
One day a man was walking along the street and he saw some little green men get out of a spaceship and start looking all over the ground with magnifying glasses. The man was very curious, so he decided to ask the little men what they were up to. So he went up to one of the green men and asked, "What are you looking for?" Very nonchalantly, the little man said, "Little green women!"

---
Belinda came running home from school and asked her mother if God gave us our daily bread. "Yes, dear," her mother replied.

"And does Santa Claus bring toys at Christman?" asked Belinda.
"Yes, dear."
"And does the stork bring gagies?"
"Certainly, dear."
"THEN WHAT'S DADDY HERE FOR?"

---
Then there was the wise guy who fell into the lens grinding machine and made a spectacle of himself.

Chem prof: "This gas is deadly poison. What steps would you take if it escaped?"
Student: "Long ones, Sir, long ones!"

---
He: "Pardon me, but you look like Helen Green!"
She: "So what? I look worse in pink."

---
What did Mama Cannon say to Papa Cannon?
"I think we are going to have a little BB."

---
A rather inebriated guy one bus was tearing up a newspaper into tiny pieces and throwing the pieces out the window. "Excuse me," said a woman sitting next to him, "But would you mind explaining why you're tearing up a paper and throwing the pieces out the window?" "It scares away the elephants," said the drunk. "I don't see any elephants," said the woman grinning. "Rather effective, isn't it?"

---
The optimist and a pessimist were shipwrecked on an island.

The pessimist, expecting the worst, said: "I'll bet it's inhabited by wild men."

"Cheer up," said the optimist. "Where there are wild men, there are wild women!"

---
"Look, mother," yelled little Willie. "There's a big, black bear out in our back yard."

"Now, Willie, you know perfectly well that that is the Smith's dog. You go straight to your room and ask God to forgive you for telling lies."

Willie was back downstairs in a few minutes and his mother asked "Did you ask God to forgive you?"

"Yes, I did," replied Willie, "and he said it was alright. God said the first time he saw the Smith's dog he thought it was a bear himself."

---
SPECIAL ACKNOWLEDGMENTS to Mrs. Kelly, Mr. Bailey, Mr. Doerkson, for their assistance in the production of this newspaper.

